Eurogas calls for quick resolution of Belarus – Russia dispute

Eurogas is aware of the current divergence of views between Russia and Belarus on a number of energy issues.

Eurogas is urging the parties to find an amicable resolution to their differences in the interest and spirit of pan-European energy cooperation.

Eurogas insists that a bilateral dispute should not have an impact on European customers.

Eurogas is confident that a solution will be found quickly and that both parties will respect their transit and other contractual obligations.

Eurogas is keeping close contact with the European Commission in relation to this matter.
